

SHERWOOD u3a NEWSLETTER

LEARN! LAUGH! LIVE in October 2026!

An Amazing Membership!

“Well, it’s alright for you to be enthusiastic because you’ve got an amazing membership!”

I was shopping in Tesco and got into conversation with someone from another u3a. Having talked about the weather, family, holidays and local eating places we got onto u3a. I said that we had just had a meeting to discuss and put dates to lots of activities for 2027 and I must have sounded excited and enthusiastic because that’s when she said the above. I agreed that our membership were pretty special but asked how she knew that Sherwood membership was amazing. She admitted that she had been to one of our Monthly Meetings and had been stunned at how we announced a trip or activity and immediately got a long queue of members ready to put their names down and pay. I agreed but pointed out that we have the Newsbytes so members know what is on offer at that meeting and they are also informed at the beginning of the month in the Newsletter. Plus, the card reader is very useful since we can’t take cash.

She acknowledged that they didn’t have all those things but that she had advertised a trip to Whitby and only got 13 members sign up for it. I must admit, I laughed and said that we usually filled a trip to the seaside as soon as it opened. The National Arboretum was her next disappointment – just 9 whilst, when only our Gardening Group went, we filled a 16-seater minibus! I did the rest of my shopping feeling very proud of our amazing u3a!

Though, it has to be said, that we have some amazing leaders who are very dedicated to ensuring that the membership reap the rewards of belonging to our u3a. Next month, after the Group Leaders’ Meeting I will be highlighting their contribution and be telling you about the plans for the November Coffee Morning when we hope to get lots of extra groups started. Members often want to join a group but it’s full e.g. Chatty Café, Walking, Wine Appreciation or they want a past group to be revived e.g. Local History, Lunch, Music, Singing for Fun, Discussion and Debate. Well, thanks to our two AMAZING Group Coordinators that’s what we aim to do at the Coffee Morning -- as well as munch our chosen cob, chat and listen to the FOREST SINGERS (see page three)

I mentioned how amazing Sue was at the September Meeting BUT for those who weren’t there, I’ll repeat it! Some of our groups, Drama, Art, Art for Beginners, Gardening 2 meet at Flint Avenue and in July we were informed that it would be closed because of structural faults. Sue spent a full week investigating other appropriate venues – no easy task as to be like Flint Avenue it had to local, free, large, have a floor suitable for Art, toilets and, of course for u3a refreshment facilities. Having found one off Peafield Lane, she had to book us all in for our various times and have keys cut for each Group Leader. By September we were all in!!

Kate is equally amazing, for she not only organises and does reccies for “Ticket to Ride” with Sue, she also attends many Groups as a member. I personally am very grateful to her because she frequently does “write ups” for the groups that she has attended. She also, along with Sue, organises and runs Group Leaders’ Meetings which ensure that Group Leaders are kept up to date. She also is the Administrator for Beacon which enables Group Leaders to easily contact all their members and you all to receive your newsletter and messages from Committee.

CHAIRMAN'S REPORT – Claire Wilkie

Several happenings recently have highlighted to me the value of friends, and particularly, how much of a contribution Sherwood u3a can make to having them.

Phil Lyons, in his excellent eulogy for David Bradley at his funeral, gave a warm, loving, portrait of his friend. They had been friends for many years, but their friendship had continued to flourish as members of Sherwood.

Over time, I have heard from many people how making friends at the u3a has given them a different outlook on life- at times when their lives have been turned upside down by the loss of a partner, or dear friend.

Access to Sherwood, and its groups, has also made an impact on people who have relocated. Only the other day I was talking to someone who said she had moved to the area not knowing anyone, but she joined the u3a, and every friend she now has she met there.

I only need to look at my Christmas card list to see how many people at Sherwood I count as friends. They may not all be the closest of friends, but they are valued, nonetheless.

At an age when many of us unfortunately lose some of our longest-term friends, I can only say that I am very glad I belong to such a friendly u3a, where people care, and hopefully many of you feel the same!

VICE CHAIR – Kathryn Prentice

Hello to my fellow Sherwood U3A members. I just wanted to let you know that I will be serving as Vice Chair for the next two years. I am still fairly new to the U3A, having joined three years ago and joined the committee last year, so I know I have a lot to learn. However, with the support and experience of our wonderful committee, I am confident I will learn a great deal from them—and I hope they do not get too tired of my many questions.

I am an active member and belong to several groups, including Art for Beginners, Art for Pleasure, Walking and Rambling, Gardening 2, Craft 2, Chatty Café, Drama, Classic Cinema, Tap Room Games and Archery. I also enjoy making the most of our varied days out, including National Trust and Heritage visits. Seeing the full list of groups, I belong to has helped me understand why my children ask when I am available to talk to them!

Please feel free to come up to me at meetings to say hello or ask any questions. If I don't know the answer straight away, I will find out and get back to you by the end of the meeting.

Refreshment Volunteers Wanted!

We all enjoy tea/coffee and biscuits at the Monthly Meetings, but this cannot happen without our refreshment volunteers.

There are 3 volunteers on duty at each meeting, and they are on a rota only 2 or 3 times a year. I also need a list of reserves to cover absences.

Can you help? If you would like to volunteer your help or want more information please see Jane Lowe at the monthly meeting or contact

Jane Lowe via website.

THE FOREST SINGERS

We once had a u3a Choir and as well as doing Concerts in various venues they came and sang at some of our Monthly Meetings. The pictures below are when they sang at St. Lawrences and St Albans and we went to be part of their audience – it was perishing wasn't it, Joan? The ones below are when they sang at our Christmas Meeting and everyone listened attentively didn't they Margaret?

Unfortunately, someone from and then left. They didn't stop membership so that it was no St. Lawrences Church Hall another u3a joined, spoiled it for them singing but they had to open up the longer a u3a Choir. They rehearse in and perform various concerts in the local area. Some of us, who remember what they used to be still support them and attend their concerts.

At their recent Summer Concert, several members of our u3a attended and they sang some of my favourite songs: Both Sides Now by Joni Mitchell, The Sound of Silence by Simon and Garfunkel, Annie's Song by John Denver, In My Life by the Beatles, Wishing You Were Somehow Here Again from Phantom of the Opera, A Million Dreams from the Greatest Showman and You Raise Me Up by Westlife. They also sang This Little Light of Mine and All Things Bright and Beautiful which I hate, but you can't have everything and the great well outweighed the ugh!!!

Our u3a lacks any Musical Groups so hopefully at the November Coffee Morning, we can change that either by a choir or a Singing for Fun Group. The latter have been springing up all around the local area and I have several friends who pay to go to one and thoroughly enjoy it. So, let's see if we can have our own, where you don't have to pay to join!

Which Way is Clockwise?

So, tell me which way is clockwise?

I'd really like to know,

I've not much sense of direction and

My reactions are awfully slow!

The Driving Instructor sat trembling,

His face was ashen grey:

As far as he was concerned poor chap ,

This was a very bad day.

It's my first driving lesson,

It will be just a matter of days

Before I rip off the "L" plates

And speed down the motorways.

Let the clutch pedal come up gently

Press the accelerator down a bit,

Move away from the kerb nice and slowly.

OH NO! What was that you hit???

Remember, observe, signal manoeuvre,

Keep up with the traffic flow,

Always observe the speed limits,

Watch out for the cyclist – OH NO!

I'm a driving Instructors nightmare,

I don't know my left from my right.

Each time I have a lesson

I give him a terrible fright.

Well, I don't know quite how I've done it

But I'm entered for my test

And, I intend to pass it

And drive just like the rest!

I FAILED!!!! -- Continued next month!!

Afternoon Taproom Games

Roll up! Roll up! This is your "last orders" to sign up for the Afternoon Taproom Games, starting on Wednesday 7th October in the Black Bull pub.

Don't get left behind,
join the fun now, please contact Roger or a team member. Cheers!

Photography for Fun

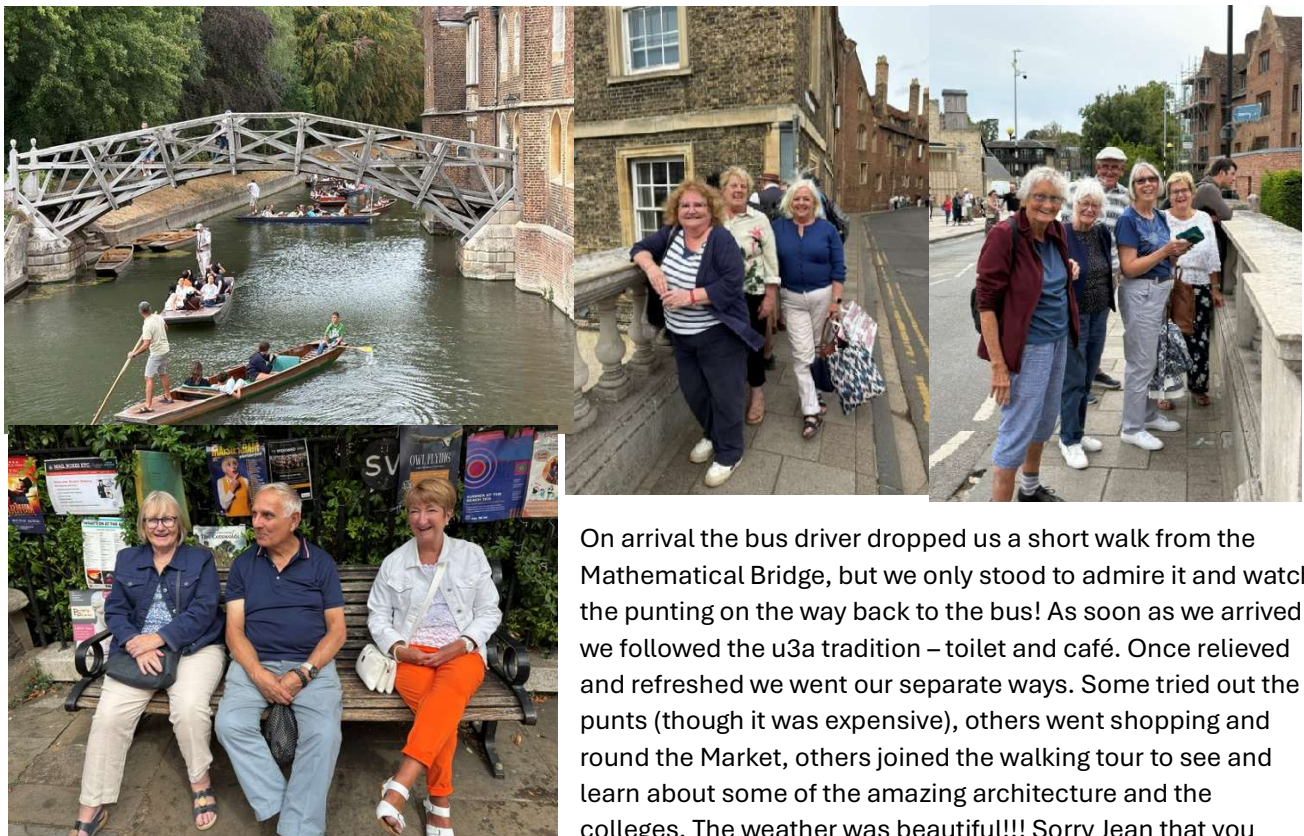

What a great turnout for our September U3A meeting this morning! We watched a good presentation about different types of buildings by Sharon. Afterwards we enjoyed a quiz all about famous landmarks, and Ken was our clever dick champ, winning himself another slice of Mandy's lovely cake. Thanks to all who contributed to our 11.00am bikkie break.

We then turned our attention to the main event, finding our monthly winner! The theme this time was "Reflections", and our second clever dick of the morning was Ian, with his picture of "Lyme Park". Mandy came 2nd with a nice candid photo of a shih tzu dog staring at himself in a mirror, and Debbie was 3rd with a picture called "Whitby reflection after the rain ". Once again, the entry level was very high, so well done team and I will see you all in October.

GROUP NEWS – The Rest!

Days Out – Cambridge –Thanks Jean for organising this for us!!!

On arrival the bus driver dropped us a short walk from the Mathematical Bridge, but we only stood to admire it and watch the punting on the way back to the bus! As soon as we arrived we followed the u3a tradition – toilet and café. Once relieved and refreshed we went our separate ways. Some tried out the punts (though it was expensive), others went shopping and round the Market, others joined the walking tour to see and learn about some of the amazing architecture and the colleges. The weather was beautiful!!!! Sorry Jean that you couldn't make it!!

History – Hardwick Hall – Kate Kiely

In a recent group meeting we researched the life of Bess of Hardwick (1527 – 1608) and the lesser-known story of her Granddaughter Arbella. We all wanted to learn more, and what better way than to visit Hardwick Hall, and put into context all we had learned about her.

Bess had a hugely interesting and quite awe-inspiring life. She was born into a modest Derbyshire family at Hardwick Old Hall (a small manor house at the time of Bess' birth) and went on to become immensely rich; the second richest woman in the country and quite a feat for a woman at that time in history. The one woman who was richer than Bess at that time was Queen Elizabeth I, and she and Bess were friends.

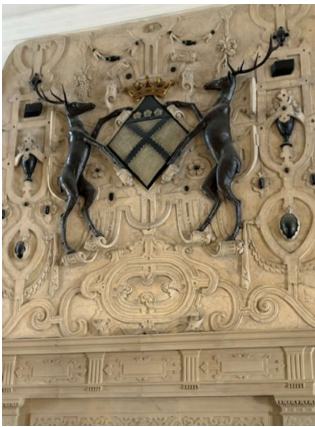

The first stop though was a coffee and we sat outside in the stable yard in warm summer sunshine. We decided to visit the Old Hall first to see where Bess was born although it was a much more modest manor house at the time of her birth and she extended it twice before building the new Hardwick Hall.

Hardwick Hall is a magnificent Tudor mansion and is a testament to Bess' wealth. Walking through the Gatehouse you are left in no doubt who the house belonged to – it shouts from the rooftops. The initials ES – for Elizabeth Countess of Shrewsbury, stand underneath her coronet on every tower. Most of us have heard 'Hardwick Hall, more glass than wall' and at that time glass was outrageously extravagant – but then Bess owned her own glass works. The stone used for building the Hall is from quarries on site.

Before we went into the Hall, we were lucky to be able to listen to a really interesting talk by one of Hardwick's volunteers who knew all about Bess' history and he recounted her life story and in particular the detail of her four marriages and the fact that Bess shrewdly ensured that she would be beneficiary on the death of each of her husbands, which was very unusual for a woman at that time. In Bess' second marriage to Sir William Cavendish, they acquired land in Derbyshire and built Chatsworth. Her fourth husband, The Earl of Shrewsbury, was one of the richest men in the country but they were charged with guarding Mary Queen of Scots, along with her retinue of 40, and this caused a massive constraint in terms of finance and their personal freedoms. It led to a breakdown in their marriage and Bess eventually came back to Hardwick, renovating and extending the Old Hall before building the new Hardwick Hall. In the end, when The Earl died she inherited all his estates and became immensely rich herself. She was also the founder of a great aristocratic family.

Hardwick Hall is exceptional because it has never been 'modernised' and it still contains a collection of Tudor and Stuart needlework which is renowned worldwide and much of the original furnishing is still in place. Contrary to popular belief Mary Queen of Scots was never at Hardwick. However, Arbella, Bess' Granddaughter (whose parents were Charles Stuart Earl of Lennox, in turn related to Mary Stuart Queen of Scots, and Elizabeth, Bess' daughter) lived at Hardwick. She was in line to the throne after the death of Elizabeth I along with James VI of Scotland who of course succeeded and became King James I.

We explored Hardwick Hall, all three storeys of it, following Bess' legacy through the building and the paintings, furniture and tapestries. I think we all agreed how fortunate we are to have such a fascinating National Trust property on our doorsteps and on each visit we learn something new.

We certainly put into context what we had learned in our History group meeting and the only thing left to do was sample the food on offer at Hardwick, and sit with it outside in the Stable yard with the imposing initials ES overshadowing us from every angle.

Walking Group - WALK TO HARDWICK VIA THE TEVERSAL LANES – Kate Kiely

Ten members of the Walking Group met at the Teveral Visitors' Centre to start the walk to Hardwick Hall via the Teveral Lanes. The two leaders who had tested out the walk and led it were Kate and Diane.

It was a relatively flat walk along the former railway lines previously used for transporting coal, apart from 36 steps down into the Hardwick estate. It was a longer walk than usual but didn't seem so because it was a great opportunity to chat with each other and time seemed to speed by.

We reached the hamlet of Norwood after nearly an hour of walking, and from there reached the gated entrance to the

Hardwick Estate and those 36 steps. What goes down must go up - maybe a few less steps this time - but we needed a refreshment break at the top (and to get our breath back!). A 10-minute walk later and we reached Hardwick. We sat outside in the gorgeous surroundings enjoying the autumn sunshine with drinks and snacks before we decided to continue on our way back.

The return journey was the same but we took a little short-cut using way-marked paths across fields before reaching a bridge overlooking the Teversal Trail and walked down a set of steep steps at the side of the bridge onto the trail.

Hardwick is always a great destination and it was worth the extra mileage.

Strollers Group – around the Carrs led by Gladys

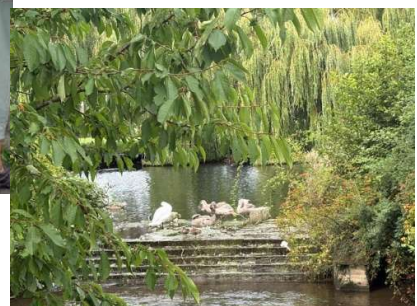

There were 25 of us and we met up in the Carrs car park by the Church. It was a lovely day, just right for a stroll so instead of going once around the path we went twice before heading to the Cosy Café in Warsop.

Yes you can safely say we explored all there was to explore BUT more than that – we were amazed and fascinated by the beautiful sights both of the river and the wild life. The café was also very welcoming and had a great assortment of eats!!! Thanks for the pictures Brenda xx

THANKS GLADYS xxx

Garden Group 2 – Summer BBQ in Jenny’s Garden

It is now a longstanding tradition that, in August we enjoy a get together in Jenny’s garden. She has a very large patio, and each year seems to manage to get MEN to do the barbequing (we have had several different ones who have volunteered). This year it was ROGER and MALC – Roger was experienced because he has done it several years now. As well as sausage, burgers and chicken from the BBQ, we all bring extras. Some provide extras to go with the meat, others bring desserts for after the main feast and some bring WINE, mainly non-alcoholic. But we don’t need alcohol to have a great time when we are all together!!!

THANKS JENNY!

National Trust Group – Upton Hall

When we set off from Mansfield the weather was dull with light rain but as we travelled across country it got worse! The windscreen wipers were doing overtime because the rain came down in bucketsful! It was typical Jean and Days Out weather BUT this was National Trust! As we neared Upton the rain disappeared, the sun came out and the rest of the day was beautiful (sorry Jean)! After the café, most headed for the house so they could get a ticket to meet Rembrandt and saved the gardens until the afternoon when it promised to be even brighter. It has to be admitted that the gardens, because of the recent hot, dry weather, were not as glorious as

Rambling Group – Ann's Birthday at Attenborough

Thursday 17th September and it's Ann's 70th Birthday so what better way to spend it than with the Rambling Group at Attenborough???? Some did the Skylark and Tufted Duck Trails and others just did one or the other. Either way we all ended up in the café for drinks and cakes, on Ann (well if you can't spend your money when you are Seventy, when can you spend it??) I was amazed at the number of regular ramblers who had never been to Attenborough before because this was the fourth time we had done it!! It is lovely AND quite easy walking!

70 Years Young!

Wine Group – Again to Celebrate Ann’s Birthday!

Having rambled around Attenborough, it was then home to get ready for the Wine Appreciation Group Celebration of Ann’s Birthday. It was our first meeting without David and so we held it at my house to make it easier for Angela and more of a celebration for Ann. As it is, Angela does not mind if we meet at her home to continue David’s legacy. We would have made David proud because as well as welcoming a new member, we planned our themes for the rest of this year and into the next. In fact, a pattern emerged - in a normal year we will have 12 meetings of which 8 will be member-led themes, 2 will be parties (Summer and Christmas) when food will be shared, leaving room for 2 meetings to be determined - we can leave our options open for now.

GROUP NOTICES

Strollers Group – From Jenny

Sadly, I am away down Cornwall but Jane Lowe has kindly agreed to lead the walk to Cresswell Crags after some discussion it has been agreed that you meet at Morrisons at 10.00 for lifts to Dukeries garden centre. The party will leave from Dukeries garden centre at 10.30 those that want the shorter walk can stay in the cafe whilst the rest of the group walk round the lake and join them later. The following months stroll is on 5/11/26 which is the morning of the Coffee morning I propose cancelling this stroll as many will be attending this event.

Oriental Dining Group – From Jenny

I am cancelling this Oriental dining night at Chungs as many people are unable to go as they are on holiday with u3a and others unable to attend due to prior arrangements. The next available date is 30/10/26. I am going to London for the weekend but would happily rearrange for you all to go to Chungs on that date, Jeremy has kindly offered to arrange Naaz on 27/11/26. Can you please let me know asap what you want me to do re Chungs and also if you will be going to Naaz

Family History Group Meeting at Park Road Resource Centre, 1st October, at 10am - 12 noon

For next month’s meeting, do have a look to see if you can find any newspaper articles and announcements about your ancestors, as we discussed in September.

Our main topic will be “ Looking at your family tree, who would you have liked to meet and why? What else can you find out about them.” Viv Brown

History – From Margaret

At the October meeting we will be discussing future presentations for 2027 from January onwards so please bring your ideas to this meeting so that we can compile the 2027/2028 diary ready for the November meeting.

In October we can also discuss our Christmas fuddle which will be on Friday 18th December 2026.

International Dining – from Jane

On Tuesday 3 November we are going to Waterlily, Mansfield. (Names and deposits to be taken at the October members' meeting). After our Christmas break the next meal will be in February.
